

Hello and welcome to the “Made by Google” Podcast. My name is Rachid Finge, your host on this brand new show. In every episode, I'll be talking to fellow Googlers who work on our latest devices and services.

They'll bring their stories, experiences and tips and tricks for you to try. Come find out what it takes to design and build new and thoughtful devices, whether they sit in your pocket or on a table.

So tune in for great behind the scenes stories of all the Made by Google teams from across the world.

Get interesting, fun and sometimes nerdy insights into our latest products.

In our upcoming episodes we'll be talking about the evolution of smartphone cameras, internet security and design and sustainability.

There's a new episode every Thursday starting, you guessed it, October 6th.

So make sure to give us a follow so you don't miss an episode.

I'm Rachid Finge. Join me on the “Made by Google” Podcast.
